The 2nd Annual All-Corvette Auction and the Corvette American flag display are sure to wow the Corvettes at Carlisle faithful

CARLISLE, PA – Corvettes at Carlisle held August 22nd through the 24th at the Carlisle PA Fairgrounds is the world's largest All-Corvette event and provides Corvette enthusiasts of all generations with a weekend of special guests, entertainment, activities, and of course the ability to drive in the famous historic downtown Carlisle parade. Two aspects to this year's Corvettes at Carlisle that are sure to wow the Corvettes at Carlisle faithful are the 2nd Annual All-Corvette Auction and the Corvette American flag display, which both take place on Friday, August 22nd.

On Friday evening starting at 4pm at the Carlisle Expo Center located across the street from the Carlisle Fairgrounds, Carlisle Auctions will kick-off the 2nd annual All-Corvette Auction. The All-Corvette Auction will be packed full of the excitement that many people have seen on TV associated with collector car auctions. The All-Corvette Auction will not only allow people the opportunity to be wowed in person by the auction atmosphere but also the chance to enjoy the number of rare and collector Corvettes that are scheduled to cross the auction block. A listing of the pre-auction inventory may be found at www.CarlisleAuctions.com.

Over one-hundred Corvette owners will have the chance to become a part of history by taking part in the first-ever Corvette American flag display. The red, white and blue Corvettes will line up in an American flag formation on the Carlisle Fairgrounds. A ceremony will take place at noon on Friday on the auto-cross track observation deck to introduce the display and to give Lance Miller, Senior Manager with Carlisle Events, a chance to talk about how the concept came to him in a dream. Tom Wallace, Vehicles Line Executive with General Motors and Corvette will also address the crowd to talk about America's love for Corvettes and the history of America's favorite sports car.
